

BRICKLEY'S FEAT SETS NO RECORD

and Trafford kicked behind a defense that was never tried in the past. The Harvard eleven of 1912 was while holding back the 12th who aimed to block Brickley's kicks. Trafford, never hurried at any time, kicked five drop-kick field goals out of seven attempts from the thirty and thirty-five yard lines. Also he kicked three yards for all five. Brickley scored from the twenty-four, thirty-eight, thirty and twenty-two yard lines and his placement goal was made thirty-nine yards from the Yale line. This was a total distance of 155 yards and averaged thirty-one yards per kick.

Other football records which have been reported as broken this season include the long field run and high score, but in neither case do the 1913 performances rank with those of other games. The longest run of football is credited to Walter Eckersall, of the University of Chicago team, who ran 106 yards in the game of 1904 against Wisconsin. Eckersall caught the ball on a kick-off and ran from virtually his own goal line across Wisconsin's at the other end of the field, passing the entire yardage in his night.

The record for high score is held by H. M. Coleman, of Wisconsin, who kicked up the ball on a fumble in the Minnesota game of 1891 and ran 165 yards for a touchdown.

There have been an unusual number of big scores rolled up during the 1913 season, and several of these have been claimed as records. Evansville, Ind., High School defeated Rockport, Ind., High School 145 to 0 in a game played at Evansville, Ind., on September 20. Phillips University 112 to 0 on October 25. The University of Louisville defeated Washington College 100 to 0 on October 18. Washington and Jefferson defeated Grove City 100 to 0 on November 1, and Gallaudet defeated Baltimore College 100 to 0. These high scores do not exceed some of the high marks made by famous Eastern gridiron machines of past years, all things considered. Princeton scored 140 to 0 against Lafayette in 1880, and Yale defeated Wesleyan 100 to 0 in 1886. Some years ago the University of Michigan defeated the University of Buffalo by a score running into three figures to 0.

Coach "Hurry-up" Yost tells an amusing story in connection with this game. The contest was specially arranged and held during the Buffalo Exposition of 1901. Yost brought his famous "point-a-minute" machine from Michigan, and the Westerners proceeded to score touchdowns on almost every play. Buffalo had but eighteen players in the squad, and soon all were badly used up. In order to continue it was necessary to relax the contest. It was against the rules of those days to return a player to the game once he had been taken out, but Yost agreed to waive this rule under the conditions that the game should be a form of football under a Michigan blanket on his side line, and fearing that one of his men had been hurt, Yost went over and lifted the blanket underneath the Buffalo uniformed player.

"Get over on your own side of the field," said Yost. "This is Michigan territory."

"Not for $1,000," replied the player. "If I go back they will put me in the game again, and I've been in and out five times now. I know when I've got enough if you don't!"

The agitation to eliminate the professional baseball game during the playing of intercollegiate games is at present the subject of correspondence and discussion among a number of Eastern colleges. It is the contention that the nine should play their game without the aid of professional players and the aid of the professional coach, if it is to be a pure amateur contest.

The Harvard Alumni Bulletin expresses the following editorial opinion on the subject:

"The object of these athletic teachers is to prepare the men for their final tests, just as the business men in other departments prepare the men for the final examinations. Only in athletics, however, does the teacher lend a hand in the final examination. The single sport in which he does not is rowing. Would it not be advisable to adopt in all the branches of sport some measure which would leave the men to themselves in the final test? In this way leadership for the captain and responsibility for the players would be more fully developed. The results of the contests would depend more upon the intelligence of the competitors and less upon the cleverness of the coach."

statement that Al Copeland, the former Yale and Princeton athletic trainer and an all-around athlete in his day, has been selected to train the Austrian track and field team for the Olympic games of 1916, at Berlin, adds another to the growing list of famous American athletes and trainers who are being engaged to coach foreign teams for competition against the United States entries three years hence. Copeland follows Ernie Herberg, who is under contract to Sweden, and Alex Kraenzlein, who will train the German athletic coaches and athletes. France, Belgium and Greece are also considering similar moves, and even England has engaged one of the Americanized English athletes to help in the organization of her team, now that the Olympic fund has passed the $50,000 mark.

is 2,561, average 166.15, and McFarland's score for sixteen games is 2,536, average 158.5.

Total pins will count in deciding the championship, and the closeness of the score between the contestants has aroused interest in Richmond and Petersburg to a high pitch, especially among those interested in the bowling game. The finishing series will take place Tuesday night in Petersburg, and the Petersburg bowlers are anxious to care for all spectators in the very best way.

The nine games to be bowled Tuesday night in Petersburg will make the total of twenty-five games, to the winner of which the Petersburg bowlers will give a prize of $50, which will be augmented by a like prize offered by the friends of the contestants.

The bowlers in Gloucester are enthusiastic, and state that they will give $50 to any man in the State who can defeat the winner of the Whitman-McFarland tourney, and they will also give $50 to any team which wins the State which defeats Whitman and McFarland as a team.

President Fiers, of the Petersburg Association, and D. L. Walker, of Petersburg, will be the official referees at Tuesday night's match, while Frank Overman, of Richmond, will be referee, and Temple Roy, of Richmond, will be official scorer.

Chief Bailey has made arrangements for a special car on the interurban line to leave the South Richmond terminal at 6 o'clock Tuesday night, and the excursion rates will be good only on that car, going and returning.

RANDOLPH-MACON ACADEMY PLEASED

field under punts and unusually good at receiving the forward pass. It was seldom, indeed, that any gain was made around their ends.

Captain Holle, a veteran of three years, was back at his old position in quarter. He kept up his good work of the past years, directed the team well, was a broken field runner of exceptional merit and a tower of strength on the defense. Ives, of North Carolina sub-quarter, was the fastest man on the squad, good at skirting the ends and a strong defensive player.

Hickey at left half, although suffering from a bad knee most of the season, was a player of great ability. He was strong on skin tackle plays and short end runs.

Foxle, of North Carolina, at right half, was one of the best back field men ever developed at the Academy. A hard runner, and picking his holes well, he was a hard man to stop. He led good interference and could usually be depended on to get his man. He was very strong on defense, being one of the fiercest tacklers on the team.

Blades, of North Carolina, at full, was the life of the back field. He was aggressive, with a great deal of "pep" and a lighter from start to finish, was a good line player and could always be depended on to get his man in interference. He was a tower of strength on defense in backing up the line and a punter of no mean ability.

Altogether the Academy had as good a team as she has turned out in many years as the season's record here shows:

Randolph-Macon Academy, 14; Bedford City, 0.

Randolph-Macon Academy, 0; Roanoke College, 39.

Randolph-Macon Academy, 6; Roanoke High School, 8.

Randolph-Macon Academy, 55; Bingham School, 0.

Randolph-Macon Academy, 21; Roanoke High School, 7.

Randolph-Macon Academy, 28; Bedford City, 7.

Randolph-Macon Academy, 36; Danville School, 0.

Randolph-Macon Academy, 7; Roanoke College, 11.

Randolph-Macon Academy, 52; Jefferson School, 9.

Total Randolph-Macon Academy, 229; opponents, 77.

CLARKE SIGNS TO LEAD PIRATES

Pittsburgh, Pa., December 6.—Fred C. Clarke, manager of the Pittsburgh National club, today signed a contract to manage the Pirates in 1914. It was the twenty-first year in contract Clarke had signed since he and Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh club, began business relations.

Results:

First race—five furlongs—Bob Hensley, 115 (Marco), 2 to 1, 2 to 5 and 1 to 1.

Second race—five furlongs—Pan Zareta, 39 to 1, 1 to 1 and 5 to 1, second.

POULTRY SHOW OPENS MONDAY

Annual Exhibit of Fancy Fowls Will Attract 160 Exhibitors.

The annual exhibit of the Virginia Poultry Association will begin Tuesday morning at 408 West Broad Street, and continue through to Saturday night. There will be 160 exhibitors and more than 1,000 chickens of all breeds will be displayed.

The prizes this year aggregate $500 in cash, while thirty-two silver cups will be awarded.

J. W. Dennis will be the superintendent in charge of the exhibition, while Secretary G. E. Guvenator and President Andrew J. Warren, of the association, will devote their time to make the show a greater success than was the exhibition last year.

Many local breeders will have exhibits, while there will be fowls from various sections of the State on exhibition. There will also be consignments from exhibitors outside of the State. Every indication points to a very creditable show, and the public is urged to give its support to the show.

RALEIGH SCHOOL LANDS VICTORY

Chapel Hill, N. C., December 6.—By School football team here this afternoon by the score of 29 to 6. Raleigh High School's football warriors in a distance of the State high school football championship, victory by the Washington leads here next Saturday is the only thing in the way of call for the title, as the two teams will play the deciding game of the State championship series there.

Outweighed by eight pounds to the man and exhibiting superior knowledge of football, the Raleigh boys had easy sailing to victory this afternoon, and the only touchdown for the Wilmington side came on Raleigh's fumble. Four touchdowns and one field goal with two failures to kick goal gave Raleigh its victory.

WORLD'S RECORD MADE AT JUAREZ

Juarez, December 6.—A new world's record for five and one-half furlongs over a circular track was created here this afternoon, when J. E. Newman's Texas-bred filly Pan Zareta raced the distance in 1:04 3/5. The new record is one-fifth of a second better than the record held by Lady Irma, made at Los Angeles. The performance of Pan Zareta was remarkable from the fact that she carried 121 pounds, and was not ridden until the final sixteenth. Florence Roberts finished a length in front of Gold of Ophi. Four favorites scored and the form players enjoyed a good day.

Results:

First race—five furlongs—Bob Hensley, 115 (Marco), 2 to 1, 2 to 5 and 1 to 1.

Second race—five furlongs—Pan Zareta, 39 to 1, 1 to 1 and 5 to 1, second.

Third race—five furlongs—Pan Zareta, 39 to 1, 1 to 1 and 5 to 1, second.

Fourth race—five furlongs—Pan Zareta, 39 to 1, 1 to 1 and 5 to 1, second.

Fifth race—five furlongs—Pan Zareta, 39 to 1, 1 to 1 and 5 to 1, second.

Sixth race—five furlongs—Pan Zareta, 39 to 1, 1 to 1 and 5 to 1, second.

FULLER PROVES A REAL SCHOLAR

Chapel Hill, December 6.—Walter P. Fuller, who holds the distinction of scoring the only touchdown against the University of Virginia within eight years, when he accomplished the feat on Thanksgiving Day in Richmond, is an example that upsets the generally accepted theory that the attributes of a scholar and athlete are rarely found in well-balanced proportions.

Mr. Fuller mixed his athletics and studies in true proportions. He is managing editor of the college paper, editor of the university magazine, and a leader in class activities. In addition, he is chairman of the neighborhood work of the Y. M. C. A. His services in this field of endeavor are to the extent of supervising a band of eighteen students who walk from two to five miles in the country each Sunday to teach in the rural Sunday schools.

PLEASANT GOING FOR HUNT RIDERS

Owing to a sudden change of plans, the Deep Run hounds met at the plantation instead of at the Country Club yesterday. Huntsman Thornton had out six couples of his best American hounds, and there was never a minute during the hunt that all of the dogs were not running in a close bunch.

The course lay from the viaduct through Monument Annex to Patterson Avenue, thence through the Gilmour lands to a check at Cary Street Road. The next east was just south of Cary Street Road, thence through Sunny-side to George Hall's, then on through the Williams estate to a check at Cary Street Road. The course then lay through Woodlawn to Adam's, thence on through West View to Hall's, thence over the jumps in front of the Country Club.

A feature of the hunt was the riding of Miss Elsie Lindsay, who had the mount on Rob Roy, and also the riding of Miss Fanny Greenhaw, who rode the Quaker. It is the wish of the members of the hunt that more women come out and ride with the hunt. Quite a large number of people watched the hunt from various points, and also witnessed the finish in front of the Country Club. Those riding were: W. O. Young, M. F. H., on Wings; Fred S. Campbell, whip, on Lady Nicotine; Harry C. Beattie, Jr., whip, on Iron Prince; Miss Greenhaw, riding Rob Roy; Blanchard Forbes, riding Rob Roy; E. D. Harris, riding Leesburg; John Alken Branch, riding Flat Foot; James W. Graves, riding Fairmont; E. B. Snyder, riding Her Grace; Huntsman Thornton, riding Gals.
